The idea behind the FEP is simple: schools – and especially teachers – are the critical ingredient in equipping parents with the confidence, knowledge, and skills to support their child's success. Research shows that what educators do to invite and encourage families' engagement predicts if and how families are involved. Despite their calls for support, educators lack the training and tools to engage families in meaningful ways. The FEP addresses this need by providing intensive principal and teacher capacity-building – from teacher training to school leader coaching and professional development – with a focus on teacher family e

To achieve the expected outcomes outlined above, DCPS agrees that each Partner School will be expected to do the following:

- (1) Identify teacher leaders to provide coaching and administrative support to carry out the relationship building, ongoing, positive, proactive communication and academic partnering strategies;
- (2) Develop and communicate guidance for teachers and school staff, in alignment with District and DCPS policies, on Flamboyant Foundation's core program components for the academic partnering strategies such as APTT, student-led conferences, and goal setting parent teacher conferences; relationship building strategies, such as home visits; and ongoing, positive, proactive communication initiatives; and monitor whether these expectations are being met;
- (3) As needed and as agreed to by the parties in coordination
