The Language Acquisition Division (LAD) Intake & Assessment Center of the District of Columbia School System (DCPS) is dedicated to serving the needs of English Language Learners by providing orientation to families new to the U.S. and DCPS.

Students who communicate in a language other than English and/or if a language other than English is spoken at home may qualify to receive English as a Second Language (ESL) services at their school. To determine eligibility, students must take an English proficiency assessment.

Provides orientation and information to linguistically and culturally diverse families new to DCPS.

Provides screening test to determine ESL eligibility and placement.

Recommends age-appropriate grade placement.

Evaluates foreign transcript for the purpose of awarding high school credits.

Provides referrals to community-based resources.

Students new to DCPS are referred to the LAD Intake & Assessment Center if the Home Language Survey indicates:

A language other than English is spoken at home.

The student communicates in a language other than English.

The student was born outside of the U.S.

Every child has an assigned in-boundary school (for grades K-12) based on their home address. A child has the right to attend his or her in-boundary school starting in Kindergarten. To find your child's in-boundary school, visit <http://1.usa.gov/1thQJAN>

The parent or legal guardian must present the following, among other documents, for registration:

Proof that child lives in the District of Columbia (DC)

Immunization records

Proof of age
